

Lake

From around another turn a large lake with crystal clear water, surrounded by high mountains suddenly appeared before Kevin's eyes. The landscape was just unbelievable.

Kevin parked his «Ford Explorer» on the side of the road, right after the «Jeep Patriot», which has been already there, walked out of the car, went up to the lake and sat on a polished to a gloss tree trunk with a peeled bark.

A few meters away from the beach those, who apparently had arrived on the "Jeep Patriot", were swimming in the lake – a young gentleman and a lady. At first, Kevin just saw their heads above the water, but, when the girl dived in, flashing her untanned seducing forms of a feminine body, he understood, that she definitely had no clothes on. Logically, the clothes had to be absent on the guy as well.

"Maybe, I accidentally drove through some time and space portal and got into an earthly paradise, where former Adam and Eve had been still walking around?" – Kevin jokingly thought to himself, making a plan of actions in case when the first people on Earth will finally step out of the water.

In the meantime, the sun was getting hotter and hotter, and Kevin wanted to dive into a cold lake's blue too. "Hm, but how will I do it?" – he thought. Of course, he could put on his swimming trunks, but out of solidarity with those, who arrived here earlier, it would be better to take all of his clothes off. On the other hand, maybe, they are swimming in such a manner, because nobody was here earlier. Then, at first, Kevin just took his shirt off and, carefully folding it, found a place for it on the trunk.

"Oh, come on, after all, I'm not losing my virginity here!" – he finally dared, pulled his jeans down with the underwear and, raising his legs high, jumped in the water with a wild splash.

The couple, who were still busy exclusively with each other, gawped at him with a surprise and started laughing. Then continued to hug and kiss, sending his way interested looks from time to time.

Kevin, trying to not pay any attention, went swimming with mighty dashes to the middle of the lake.

When he finally returned to the beach, the couple had already settled down on a smooth rock not far from him and were tanning face down. Looking around the slim figure of a young girl, Kevin went to the trunk, where his clothes were, and turned to the sun. Having dried and warmed up a bit, he took out a pack of "Marlboro" cigarettes and a "Zippo" lighter out of the pocket of his jeans, lit one up and made a deep puff.

Kevin has almost lost any interest in the amazing landscape around the lake, since all of his attention was drawn to the plump white buttocks and slender tanned legs of the girl. It seemed like he could look at that kind of a landscape forever.

Finished smoking, Kevin looked for a place, where he could throw out the cigarette, and, not finding any decent variant, went to the car, where he had an ashtray. Afterwards he opened the car trunk, took out a big towel with tropical patterns and a "Hawaii" writing on it, went back to the oh-so-loved tree trunk, laid the towel on a hot rock with the writing facing upwards, and lay supine to get some tan, too.

Under the gentle sunlight he closed his eyes and, being tired from the earlier swim to the middle of the lake, probably, fell asleep, since when he opened his eyes, he noticed two more girls near the couple. One of them, with the fire-red hair, had got rid off her clothes as well, revealing to the wind and sun, as well as to the looks of those being present, perfect, chocolate tanned figure with high breasts, on which plump nipples were clearly visible, and the other, blonde, was wearing a light t-shirt and shorts faded from the sun.